

BJ ARNETT

---

Producer, Director, Costume/ Stylist /Buyer and educator of over 40 years. Former NBC 11Alive noon news anchor and entertainment/lifestyle reporter, Mrs.BJ Arnett is no stranger to the film and entertainment industry. As host and associate producer of Employment Line and Primetime for Georgia Public Television, additionally, TV69, (now CW) with Community, Beat of the City and Soul of Atlanta, BJ is familiar with investigative reporting and producing with her current talk shows BJA Today produced by Camy Arnett Production Studios and This Day with BJ Arnett.

Past film credits include “Made in Heaven” and “Marc Pease Experience”. More recent films include “Adrenaline” and “Grantham Rose”, in which BJ plays the daughter of Marla Gibbs, who portrays Rose. One of her favorite roles was playing DeAndria Keanna Kelly, alongside her husband, Cameron Arnett in the five time Dove Award winning film, “Stand Your Ground”. She was also head of Costuming, designing the leading lady’s notorious red suit. She is known as the "go to person" for connecting with other industry professionals and discreet guidance in fashion, film and television. She has also served as Public Relations Director, VP of Membership and continues to sit on the board of directors for WIFTA, Women In Film and Television Atlanta for the past 3 years as Gala committee coordination team. BJ Arnett also sits on the Program Committee for the largest film festival in the country, Atlanta Jewish Film Festival.

With her company, Model Majesty, LLC, she trains and books production talent for fashion, film and television events. BJ and her husband, director, producer, and actor Cameron Arnett, are executive producers of their first feature film Mattie: The Discovery, producers of the film Destined to Love You, and associate producers of Angry Men. Together she and her husband serve on the Mayor’s Faith Initiative Committee, The Global Media Summit Board of Directors and she is mentor to numerous women across the country with Model Majesty, LLC. Mrs. Arnett, has an MBA, BA in Fashion Merchandising and an AA in Fashion Design.